Dear Peggy. Could you forward this to Andy. It keeps coming back to me as his email is not accepted. Thanks, Yvonne

Hi Andy, You may be interested to know that Santa Monica has put a moratorium on building mega-mansions in residential areas with certain lot sizes. I have property there and know this. The lot size of this project does not even begin to sustain the probability of a home of this size.

Is there anything that can be done to stop this kind of structure which will eventually remove the nostalgic and wonderful environment of La Jolla Shores where there has always been a protective community attitude to preserve what is there. This project is not La Jolla Shores.

Sincerely,
Yvonne Lloyd-Jones
