

Joe Terry
Statement & Bio

I fell in love with La Jolla in 1984 while on a business trip to the Southwest Fisheries Science Center. Since then, my interest in La Jolla has increased and I was fortunate enough to buy a home in La Jolla in 1999 and then move to La Jolla and begin working at the Southwest Fisheries Science Center five years later.

La Jolla is a very special place in many ways. I recognize that ensuring the vitality of both the business community and our neighborhoods will contribute to the quality of life.

As a member of the Bird Rock Community Council Board, the PDO, the CPA, and the CPA Ad Hoc Coastal View Corridor Committee, I learned the important role of the CPA in dealing with the challenges of new City regulations and balancing the tradeoffs between the need for change and the need to protect the quality of life in La Jolla.

I would like to use my professional experience as an economist and my community organization experience to contribute to the CPA's ongoing efforts to meet those challenges successfully.

Education: Stanford University, A.B with honors, Economics 1967
 University of Washington, M.A., Economics, 1972
 University of California, Santa Barbara, Ph.D., Economics 1979

Experience:

February 2011 - Current: Consultant to National Marine Fisheries Service, Office of Science and Technology, Economics and Social Analysis Division, Silver Spring MD
1980 - 2011: Economist, National Marine Fisheries Service, Alaska Fisheries Science Center and Office of Science and Technology
1976 - 1980: Instructor and Assistant Professor of Marine Resource Economics, University of Alaska, Fairbanks AK
1974 - 1975: Visiting Instructor of Economics, Algoma University College, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada
1969 - 1970: Economic Analyst, California Department of Revenue, Sacramento CA

Community Service:

February 2021 –Current: Member of LJCPA and its Ad Hoc Coastal View Corridor Committee
December 2020 –Current: Member of LJPDO
March 2020 –Current: BRCC Board Member
2004 –Current: La Jolla resident
1998 – 2004: Various positions, Sherwood Forest Community Club, Bellevue WA